

Gas Regulating & Metering Stations

Natural gas has high pressure in gas transmission main pipelines which is not suitable for use in domestic and industrial appliances.

Gas regulating and metering stations reduce the pressure of gas contained in main transmission pipelines to make it proportional to the pressure of gas distribution pipelines. Measuring the flow rate, heating, filtering, and gas odorizing are also carried out in these stations.

زاگیاہ مانگنیسیا

زاگیاہ مانگنیسیا

