

Italian Taste and Traditions

History

- ❖ The history of the Federici pasta brand began in 1888 in the Italian city of Amelia in the Umbria region.
- ❖ The development of production has led to the transformation of a small family-owned business into a large factory, whose products have become widely represented outside of Italy.

Federici in Russia

- ❖ Since 1993, Ameria Russ LLC has been importing Federici pasta to the Russian market, and since 1999, it has been producing traditional types of pasta at the Ameria Pasta Factory in the Russian city of Kurchatov in the Kursk region.
- ❖ Products under the Federici brand are made from durum wheat varieties of group "A" in accordance with the latest technologies and on the modern equipment of the Swiss brand Buhler and the Italian brand Fava. The product range includes 15 different formats in 500 g and 3 kg packaging.
- ❖ Ameria Russ LLC continues the tradition of brand development, taking into account the current needs of consumers:
 - the range of pasta includes a line of egg noodles in nests, made in Italy;
 - in 2018, the range was replenished with gluten-free pasta, made in Italy;
 - in the second quarter of 2019, the production of a line of whole-grain pasta products was launched at the Ameria Pasta Factory;
 - during 2019, the Ameria Pasta Factory expanded with its own workshop for the production of gluten-free pasta. Federici gluten free "Spaghetti", produced in Russia, became the first in Russia in its category to receive the international certificate of conformity CUK-G-166 from the British Society of Celiac Diseases "AOECS".

Pasta factory Ameria provides an opportunity to produce long and short pasta under your brand name in a package of 250–3 000 gr
